

Privacy Policy

Centurion Systems has implemented its Privacy Policy in order to protect the privacy of your information. There are areas of our website that invite you to submit personal information, mainly to signup an account or receive a quote. Centurion Systems will never willfully sell, trade, rent, provide, or otherwise transmit any personally identifiable information about you to any third party. This information is strictly collected for the purpose of providing services to our customers and to improve our customer service model.

Information We Gather

In order to provide the information and services you depend on, we need certain bits of information from you. If you're browsing our site, we may track your IP address so we can determine where you came from and how you browsed our site. Of course, your IP address tells us nothing about you as an individual. Instead, your IP address helps us figure out general things about our visitors as a group. We collect aggregate information on what pages consumers access or visit, user-specific information on what pages consumers access or visit, information volunteered by the consumer, such as survey information and/or site registrations.

Data Security

Centurion Systems protects the confidentiality of its customers' information, account information and personal communications. To secure the information collected online, prevent unauthorized access, maintain data accuracy and ensure only appropriate use of information that is collected from customers, Centurion Systems has implemented appropriate physical, electronic, and managerial procedures. Further, Centurion Systems requires that employees keep customer information confidential. Centurion Systems cautions its customers and website visitors that no medium of communication, including the Internet, is entirely secure. Accordingly, Centurion Systems cannot be responsible for loss, corruption or unauthorized acquisition and use of personal information provided to our website, or for any damages resulting from such loss, corruption, unauthorized acquisition or unauthorized use.

How We Use the Information We Collect

We use the personal information you provide to fulfill your request for more information and to follow up with you personally.

We may use the information to notify you about important and updates to Centurion Systems' products and services. We may also use that information to notify you of any maintenance windows and service outages.

The information you submit when to Centurion Systems by using our website will not be disseminated to anyone outside of our company.

Links to Third Party Web Sites and Privacy
